Dear Friends,

Every day, your Shalom Austin Annual Campaign gift makes a difference to our community.

This report gives you a taste of the meaningful work your dollars support, from the key service programs that help those in need to the new initiatives that create fun and positive experiences for newcomers.

The stories within are inspiring and they’re only a fraction of the impact our Annual Campaign has—there are so many other programs, services and special events that mean so much to our community members.

Your dollars, alongside the gifts of your neighbors and friends, impact our community both in Austin and overseas, both in teaching our traditions and our history and building new relationships and new paths forward.

Inside, you will find the Shalom Austin Celebration of Jewish Giving which acknowledges the individual and collective philanthropic impact of our generous donors.

And we believe, to fully appreciate the breadth of Shalom Austin’s work, you have to see it for yourself—so please come by, join in and know that without your support, none of this work would be possible.

Shalom Austin is the hub of Jewish life in Central Texas, and with Jewish values at the center of all that we do, we’re here to help families and individuals of all backgrounds thrive.

Our integrated approach—with the Jewish Community Center, Jewish Family Service, Jewish Federation, and Jewish Foundation working in partnership—gives us a deep understanding of local needs.

With programs that serve both Jewish and non-Jewish people in Austin and Central Texas, Shalom Austin fosters a vibrant community that supports families, develops leaders, and strengthens our city.

Our work is only possible through the generosity of supporters like you. Gifts to Shalom Austin’s Annual Campaign, Generations Campaign, and the Jewish Foundation provide critical funding to sustain our programs, build out our campus, and ensure a strong future for the Jewish community. Every gift makes a difference.

Abby Rapoport
Shalom Austin Board Chair
Your support for the Annual Campaign helps Jews of all ages access outstanding educational, social, and leadership development opportunities.

Your gifts support scholarships, transportation services, and the programs themselves.

From baby to bubbe, no single gift touches more lives.

Connecting New Parents

Shalom Families, launched in 2018, provides a new and comprehensive way to connect with families around Austin and in your neighborhood.

Led by a committee of passionate parents, the programs include Shabbat N’ Play, Baby Café, Neighborhood Nosh, Mom’s Night Out, PJ Library, Speak & Schmooze, Shalom Village and TIME OUT.

“I’m a new mom, and being part of Shalom Families has given me the chance to meet more parents and make lifelong friends!”

Teaching Children Tzedakah

At the beginning of the 2017-2018 school year, children in the Early Childhood Program’s four pre-k classes discussed what it meant to give to charities, to have righteous or just behavior, and to be active members of a community. It was important to all the educators to ensure children learned and understood the life lesson that actions always speak louder than words.

The ECP serves children from six weeks through five years old in a Jewish, values-based curriculum full of nature, provocations and explorations that highlight students as both capable and integral to the construction of their own learning.

"Andrea and I love the ECP, and appreciate the care, love, and philosophy you bring to our daughter, and all her schoolmates. Thank you for continuing to test yourselves, and for reminding us what a great choice we’ve made trusting you with our precious child."

YAD helps young people develop as leaders, and find community as they build the foundation for the rest of their lives. The Annual Campaign funds many of the YAD activities, including the YAD Jewish & Newish event, which brings young professionals together to network, and the relaunched J-Lead program to train future leaders.

“When I moved to Austin, I was looking to meet friends through the Jewish community. The Young Adult Division really helped me achieve my goals – I’ve referred six people to work, I’ve been on three committees, I have two bridesmaids I met through YAD, I have one mentor I met through J-Lead, and one husband I met through YAD! I’d say that’s a success.”

Sharing Impact

Shalom Austin held its first ever mini-mission, A Day at Shalom Austin. Chaired by Lecia Sud, a dozen donors witnessed firsthand the programs made possible and the lives positively impacted by their generous contributions to the Shalom Austin Annual Campaign.

The mini-mission included a tour of the campus during Camp Shalom’s Israel Day, a conversation with a leader-in-training that found the support he needed through the inclusion program, lunch with the Israeli Scouts Caravan, and a performance by the Dell’s Angels.

“When I walked through the J and saw kids on the playground, campers learning about Israel, parents making friends with one another, and seniors working out in the gym – I knew that my gift made a difference and I could see it.”

– Lecia Sud, Annual Campaign Chair

Convening Seniors and Adults 55+

Jewish life revolves around the home and the community. We bring home to the community during our annual adults Passover seder. Community members gathered in the JCC Community Hall with their peers for one of the largest seders in Austin to break matzah together and enjoy a traditional seder — just like family.

Supported by Atria Senior Living and hosted by volunteers from Shalom Austin Women’s Philanthropy and Jewish Family Service, the seder included readings, ceremonial foods and lots of singing. Rabbi Neil Blumofe led the observance.

63 programs hosted on average each month with an average of 172 adults 55+ attending

200 adults 55+ served at Passover seder, Rosh Hashanah and Hanukkah luncheons, hosted by Women’s Philanthropy

The day after 11 people were killed and more injured at Pittsburgh’s Tree of Life Synagogue at an October 27, 2018 Shabbat service, Shalom Austin, local congregations, Anti-Defamation League and other Jewish organizations organized a vigil of peace and healing on the Dell Jewish Community Campus.

As one of the largest gatherings on the campus, 650+ people filled the JCC Community Hall, about 150 more spilled outside the building onto the lawn, where we created a second vigil.

“To those who offered comfort in the aftermath of the shooting, or showed up to the vigil, or helped in any way whatsoever, I want to say thank you. It was truly a moment of solidarity for our Austin community, a moment to show the true character of our great city. We stood in solidarity in the moments after Tree of Life, and we will continue to stand in solidarity.”

- Erik Cohen, Local Community Member and Pittsburgh Native
On April 22, 2018, Shalom Austin brought the entire community together to celebrate on the campus for a free, inclusive, meaningful Jewish experience with over 20 Jewish organizations and congregations offering interactive learning activities, food and games for all ages — in celebration of Israel’s 70th Independence Day.

District 10 Council Member Alison Alter issued a proclamation from the city to officially recognize April 22, 2018 as Israel at 70 Day.

“Our Jewish value kehillah, building a strong community, is a cornerstone of who we are.”

- Rabbi Daniel Septimus, Shalom Austin CEO

YOU ARE
Providing for People in Need

Despite a common perception that hunger is not a significant issue within the Jewish community, there are in fact many Jews in Central Texas who face economic challenges and could benefit from regular access to free and donated food. To address this need, JFS developed a food pantry available to members of the Jewish community.

JFS also works with people who have limited mobility and are unable to easily get to a grocery store or restaurant.

Because of your donations to the food pantry and Annual Campaign, JFS staff is able to deliver much-needed food and personal care items directly to these clients’ homes.

“I don’t live close to the JCC or the shul, I’m not able to participate in the community as much as I would like. Jewish Family Service has taken great care of me and they are there when I need help. I am so pleased they have started a food pantry. I always need kosher food, and I have a hard time getting it. JFS brought me matzah ball mix, gefilte fish, and even a fresh challah on Shabbat.”

“My mom was diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumor 5 years ago and my dad has been dealing with Parkinson’s for the past 20 years. Kavod is a [JFS] support group for people who are caring for their elderly parents... It’s an opportunity to share your experience and network with people who might be going through the same thing. The support group has helped me have a different perspective on how, even though they are dealing with these terminal illnesses, you can still have a positive attitude and connect with them in a different way. If I look at everything from the perspective of doom and gloom, you would just be crying all the time. I can laugh or I can cry, but I’d rather laugh.”

– Lisa Brill, Kavod Participant

Our Annual Campaign directs funds to local and regional partner programs and humanitarian and community building efforts in Israel and overseas. Shalom Austin seeks to develop Jewish leaders, help Jewish communities grow, and allow people to reconnect with their Jewish roots.

Through Jewish Federations of North America and our other partner agencies, primarily the American Joint Distribution Committee (JDC), Jewish Agency for Israel and World ORT, we help Jews in Israel and over 70 countries across the globe.

Together we work to alleviate hunger and hardship, rescue Jews in danger and create lasting connections to Jewish life.
"I was raised as a typical child in the Soviet Union, and I didn’t know I was Jewish. I’ve been helped by JDC to reconnect with my Jewish roots and my Jewish family. After I had a daughter of my own, we participated in the Family Retreat program, which introduces Jewish tradition and culture to families like me who didn’t have the experience as children ourselves. Our Jewish roots are now continuing on to the next generation."

– Ira Zboroskaya, Joint Distribution Committee Recipient
In October 2018, 15 Christian, Muslim and Jewish women came together at the JCC for Dessert and Dialogue, a multicultural women’s empowerment program that aims to find mutual ground and strengthen the bond between Arab and Jewish women from the Western Galilee while sharing, exposing and involving our partner communities to the complex diversity of the Western Galilee.

Dessert and Dialogue breaks down barriers and stereotypes, introduces a variety of cultures and develops strong relations between communities.

“We learned what it was like to coexist together in Israel. They are trying to start a peace movement by touring our partnership regions.”

– Karin Lester, Shalom Austin Family and Israel Engagement Coordinator
Connecting Communities

When we think of Hillel’s wise words, “Do not separate yourself from the community,” we often think of one or two close groups or circles of friends. In March 2018, the community widened once again for Shalom Austin, as seven Israeli educators from the Jewish Agency for Israel’s Partnership2Gether program joined the community to share customs and traditions in song, dance, conversation and a multitude of activities.

The group spent an entire day with the Austin Jewish Academy, taking part in a chocolate seder, learning Israeli dances, singing and sharing music, and creating a connection as the Israeli educators’ classes Skyped with the AJA students. In addition, students from Kids Connection in the Youth and Teen program learned Israeli dancing and enjoyed practicing with the visiting educators.
“It was an honor and privilege to experience first-hand how our local dollars are helping the Jews of Europe and the Former Soviet Union lead a more vibrant Jewish life filled with a sense of community, love of Israel and education which produces an embracing of culture and tradition.”

– Heilla Lain, Shalom Austin Leader

Rabbi Daniel Septimus, Jill May, Heilla Lain and Dan Kraus attended the annual Jewish Federations of North America (JFNA) FRD Leadership Mission to Berlin and Budapest to understand and grasp the impact of our collective overseas support of Jewish communities through our historic partners, Jewish Agency, American Joint Distribution Committee and World ORT.

They left deeply inspired and impacted by their experiences. There is a resurgence of Jewish life taking place in Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union that could not have been fathomed following the Holocaust and during Communism. Now, nearly 30 years after the fall of Communism, residents of countries throughout Central and Eastern Europe are rediscovering their Jewish roots and rebuilding Jewish life with great pride and enthusiasm.

Dan, Jill, Heilla and Daniel participated with over 150 community leaders and professionals from 34 Jewish Federations in North America for a “kippah walk” in Berlin to show solidarity with Jewish residents of Germany. They were joined by German Jewish and Muslim students who are courageously confronting growing hate against the Jewish community.
As the first capital campaign since the Dell Jewish Community Campus opened nearly 20 years ago, Generations is an ambitious effort to fund the expansion and renovation of our campus, the heart of Jewish life in Austin and an important community resource. Our new, sophisticated facilities will house programs funded by the Annual Campaign and provide additional space to accommodate our rapidly growing community.

By June 2019, thanks to your generosity, the community raised 92% of its $25 million goal. Together, we can ensure Austin Jews always have a place to go, a place to grow up, and a place to call their own.
Jewish Austinites are set to enjoy first-rate learning spaces and programming through the newly established Bernard and Audre Rapoport Center for Jewish Culture and Education at Shalom Austin, created through a $1 million gift from the Rapoport Family to the Generations Campaign.

The Bernard and Audre Rapoport Center will have a transformative impact on Jewish life in Austin by enabling the construction of technology-rich learning spaces in the soon-to-be expanded Jewish Community Center. It also provided seed money to hire Rachel Stern to serve as the center’s chief learning and engagement officer and grow creative, cutting-edge, collaborative Jewish learning and enrichment programming on the Dell Jewish Community Campus and throughout Central Texas.

Bernard and Audre Rapoport, of blessed memory, lived in Waco, Texas, where they were active in their local Jewish community as well national Jewish organizations.

“My hope is we can be a convener for education efforts and that it can then be a great resource to all the people in the community looking for ways to define Jewish living and be a community and find learning communities and resources—to have Jewish homes and lead Jewish lives but with the freedom to identify what that means to them. Sometimes figuring that out requires some education; it requires some help and support.”

– Abby Rapoport, Shalom Austin Board Chair

Reaching Goals

The Generations Campaign was pushed into its final fundraising stretch by the J. E. and L. E. Mabee Foundation, which awarded Shalom Austin’s Generations Campaign a $500,000 challenge grant in November 2018. In order to receive the Mabee matching funds, the Generations Campaign needs to reach $25 million by October 2019.

“We are honored and excited to have two challenge grants: the Michael & Susan Dell Foundation and the J. E. and L. E. Mabee Foundation Inc. This is money the community cannot afford to leave on the table. We see the finish line, and we’re going to build this. It all starts with you. We’re here to tell you, it can end with you.”

– Judy Waxman and Keith Zimmerman, Generations Campaign Co-Chairs

780+ families and individuals have donated to the Generations Campaign
“We want to ensure that the Dell Jewish Community Campus is sustainable, continuing to serve our local Jewish community, the general Austin community, Israel and the Jewish community abroad for generations to come. It is an institution we all rely on, and as such, we need to nurture, maintain and grow with the needs of the community. The Generations Campaign is about the future of Judaism in our community which is important to us.”

– Beth McDaniel, Generations Campaign Contributor

“We are passionate about expanding and improving the resources at Jewish Family Service. Specifically, we want more programs to assist and support the increasing elderly and disabled population, as well as their families. Be kind, for everyone you meet is fighting a battle you know nothing about.”

– Molly and Steve Krasoff, Generations Campaign Contributors
Completing the Dream

We’re ready to start! In April 2019, the Generations Campaign reached a major milestone by hiring Beck as the architect to build the state of the art campus and unveiling the conceptual designs of the New Dell Jewish Community Center.

A special thank you to our philanthropic leaders of the Generations Campaign who have generously donated $1 million and more, and received namings for the following campus facilities:

- Dell Jewish Community Center
- Dell Fitness & Wellness Center
- Rochelle & Stanley Ferdman Family Aquatic Center
- Bernard & Audre Rapoport Center for Jewish Culture and Education
- Epstein Family Community Hall – Gloria & Harvey Evans Performance Hall
- Clifford Zeifman Family Early Childhood Program
- Hurt Family Tennis Center
"It gives me great joy to give, and unfortunately having Parkinson's disease makes it difficult to write checks. Now, I can just ask Marianne to make a donation of $x, to organization y, for purpose z! It's easier for all of us, and it's easier to balance our checkbook!

— F.A. Midlo, Jewish Foundation Fundholder

The Jewish Foundation provides lasting support for a vibrant and secure Jewish community.

Working in partnership with the Austin Community Foundation, we ensure your investments flourish and make a meaningful difference in the programs and traditions you value most.
Congregation Beth Israel is the first historical Jewish institution in Austin to house all of their endowment funds at the Jewish Foundation.

“Congregation Beth Israel continues to inspire and command leadership in endowment and legacy giving. This year CBI’s Board of Trustees and Endowment Trustees decided to move funds from Vanguard to the Shalom Austin Jewish Foundation. In partnership with the Austin Community Foundation, Shalom Austin’s Foundation takes its stewardship responsibility very seriously with their strong Investment Committee and retention of professional investment advisors. Our assets are appropriately allocated, monitored and regularly reviewed. Apart from the stewardship around the congregation’s dollars, being a part of Shalom Austin further unites us in community and passion for our shared causes.”

– Jennifer Failla Hoffman, CBI Trustee
In 2018, Jewish Federations of North America launched the LOJE25 initiative to inspire more women to endow their Lion of Judah gift and create a perpetual legacy. Jennifer Failla Hoffman and Phil Loewy, local Women’s Philanthropy leaders, saw this as an opportunity to inspire legacy giving in Austin and served as the inaugural Forever Lion Co-Chairs.

When you become a Forever Lion, you establish a charitable gift of at least $100,000 in your name. This endowment is designed to provide ongoing support of Shalom Austin and the Jewish world.

To join the growing list of Forever Lions, please contact Amy Hyman at amy.hyman@shalomaustin.org.

It is never too soon to create your Jewish legacy. Forever starts today.

“We are so lucky to have a growing Jewish Foundation as part of Shalom Austin. To have a thriving Jewish community, Austin needs a strong Foundation as its backbone. It addresses our current needs while planning for our future.”

*Supports Shalom Austin philanthropy including Annual Campaign, Generations Campaign, supplementary fundraising and Jewish Foundation.
In 2018, Shalom Austin selected 13 local Jewish organizations to receive annual grants totaling more than $150,000. These grants provide critical support and much needed funding for community programming, events, projects and initiatives in categories including arts and culture, business, camp, community, education, Israel, philanthropic, religious and social.

The awards were selected based on the need for these services in the Jewish community and for their ability to provide opportunities for people to come together in the service of one another. Together these grants to nonprofit organizations will strengthen Jewish values and a culture of caring and connecting in Austin and Central Texas.

The 2018 grant award recipients include:

- Austin Jewish Academy (AJA)
- A&M Hillel
- Chabad UT
- Chabad A&M
- Anti-Defamation League (ADL)
- Hebrew Preparatory School (BMHA)

THANK YOU!

You are a valued member of our community, and we are grateful for your guidance and investment as we chart the course ahead for the future of the Jewish community in Central Texas. As the intersection of faith, education, and family, Shalom Austin nurtures Jewish life here and around the world.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT.
